That father kicked about.

And the next day it snowed.

July 26th, 1905, the mercury was down to 54°, and the nights of October 11th and 12th there was ice.

MASON COUNTY BAR

Meet and Take Appropriate Action Upon the Death of Hon. W. H. Wadsworth

At a meeting of the Mason County Bar yesterday afternoon called to take action on the death of Hon. W. H. Wadsworth, the full membership was in attendance.

The meeting was called to order by Hon. M. C. Hutchins and after a short tribute to the memory of the deceased by the Chairman, Hon. Frank P. O'Donnell was chosen Secretary.

Federal Judge A. M. J. Cochran, County Judge C. D. Newell and Senator E. L. Worthington were nominated a Committee to prepare suitable resolutions and to report the same to a meeting of the Bar to be called at their suggestion, at which meeting addresses memorializing the deceased member are to be made.

Owing to his necessary absence from the proposed meeting, Hon. A. D. Cole took occasion to place a laurel on the bier of the deceased by a feeling tribute to the worth and sterling character of the dead member.

It was resolved that the Bar attend the funeral in a body. Information was received that a similar resolution was adopted by the Lewis County Bar.

The funeral of the late Hon. W. H. Wadsworth will be held at the First M. E. Church, South, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, with services by Rev. Morris of Kansas City. The interment will follow in Maysville Cemetery.

THE PARTY OF YOUTH

Why Young Men Vote the Republican Ticket.

IT STANDS FOR PROGRESS.

New Voters Proud to Ally Themselves With the Party of Lincoln—Its Past Performances Presage a Still More Glorious Future.

It is not without significance that young men who have just attained their majority are found, as a rule, voting the Republican ticket. The reason is plain. These young men look on the Republican party as the party of hope, the party of promise and of performance, the party for whose candidates they will be proud to say in later years that they cast their first ballot, the party whose past needs no apology, no balm of oblivion for blunders and for crimes, no record of slavery, rebellion and attempted repudiation, each stamped out in its turn by American freemen under Republican leadership.

The Republican party is eminently the party of youth. With Republicans the memory of the glorious past is but an incentive to make the future still more glorious. To the Democracy is left the congenial occupation of floundering in the marsh of bygone Democratic vagaries, lured on by some new and delusive will-o'-the-wisp to the quagmire of quadrennial failure.

The youthful voter finds no attraction in such company. He prefers to march forward on firm ground, with the party of Lincoln, of Grant, McKinley and Roosevelt, of Taft and Sherman and Hughes—of nearly every great American, living and dead, whose career has added lustre to the closing half of the old century and the beginning of the new. The young man prefers the Republican party because it holds out a prospect for his own advancement, because in building up the nation as a whole it offers fresh opportunities to the individual, because under Republican administration there is a fair field for every one, and every citizen is protected in the enjoyment of that which he has rightfully acquired.

The new voter who takes his place in the Republican ranks and casts his ballot for Taft and Sherman will have the satisfaction not only of sharing in the Republican victory, but also of knowing that he has helped to assure prosperity for the country at large and an immeasurably better chance in life for himself and those in whom he is interested than if the harpies of Bryanism had been permitted to befall the feast.

The records of the candidates figure prominently in the present fight. Mr. Taft is running on his record, and Mr. Bryan is trying to run away from his.

Mr. Bryan declares that he is the heir to the Roosevelt polities. His claim will be rejected by the court of the people on Nov. 3.

The campaign for the Republican party in Lexington will be opened with a speech by United States Senator-elect William O. Bradley Monday evening, October 5th.

Lieutenant Governor W. H. Cox has returned from attending the meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., at Denver. He reports a glorious time, but returns wearing a new hat, he having lost his top-piece on the Western Plains.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Rowe of Clifton entertained quite a number of their friends last evening, the occasion being in honor of the wedding of their daughter, Miss Ora Rowe, and Mr. Millard Dora, which occurred at Portsmouth Saturday. Music and games were indulged in until a late hour, after which delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Ora Rowe, one of Maysville's most charming East End girls, and Mr. Millard Dora, a worthy young man, also of the East End, eloped to Portsmouth Saturday and were quietly married, much to the surprise of their many friends here. The happy couple arrived home Saturday evening and are at home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Rowe of Clifton. The young couple has the most sincere wishes of their many friends here.

MR. ROOSEVELT LAUDS TAFT.

True Friend of Reform and Foe of Abuses.

NAMES HIM POLITICAL HEIR

Republican Candidate Stands For Same Policies as Present Administration—Can Be Trusted to Do Justice to Both Capital and Labor—A Champion of the Right and True Representative of All the People.

In the following letter of President Roosevelt to Mr. Conrad Kohrs of Montana he tells why voters should support William H. Taft at the polls.

Mr. Conrad Kohrs of Helena, Mont., is an old time Montana cattleman and one of the most prominent citizens of Montana. He and the president came into close relationship more than twenty years ago, when they were both members of the Montana Stock Growers' association, the president being at that time the representative of the little Missouri stock growers in the association. The intimacy has been kept up ever since. Mr. Kohrs is one of the pioneer citizens of the northern Rocky mountain region and one of the men who has taken a leading part in its great development.

Mr. Kohrs' letter was called forth by Mr. Bryan's statement that he (Mr. Bryan) was the president's heir and natural successor.

Saginore Hill, Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1908.
My Dear Mr. Kohrs: I have received your letter about the candidacy of Mr. Taft, the man who I feel is in an especial sense the representative of all that in which I most believe in political life.

Every good citizen should desire to see both prosperity and justice, prosperity and fair and righteous dealing between man and man, obtain permanently in this great republic. As a people we are justly proud of our business industry, of our energy, intelligence and the high principle which is entirely right that we should ask ourselves as to any given course of conduct, "Will it be profitable?" But it is also no less emphatically true that the bulk of our people, the plain people who found in Abraham Lincoln their ideal champion and spokesman, regard the question, "Is this morally right?" as even more important than the question, "Is this profitable?" when applied to any given course of conduct. Indeed, in the long run our people are sure that what is morally right, what is really profitable is that which is morally right. The last few years have seen a great awakening of the public conscience and the growth of a vision, which is really profitable is that which is morally right. The last few years have seen a great awakening of the public conscience and the growth of a vision, which is really profitable is that which is morally right. The last few years have seen a great awakening of the public conscience and the growth of a vision, which is really profitable is that which is morally right.

To permit the direction of our public affairs to fall entirely into the hands of the revolutionaries and reactionaries, of the extreme radicals of unrest and of the bigoted conservatives who recognize no wrongs to remedy, would merely mean that the nation had embarked on a feverish course of policy, followed, as such periods of frenzied advance must always be followed, by equally violent periods of reaction. The revolutionary and the reactionary really play into one another's hands to the extent that each by his extreme advances leads to a reaction which would be fraught with great temporary trouble and would produce no adequate good in the end. The true friend of reform, the true foe of abuses, is the man who steadily perseveres in seeking wrongs to remedy, who is not swayed by the passions of the moment, whose character and training are such that he never promises what he cannot perform, that he always a little more than makes good what he does promise and that, while steadily seeking to remedy wrongs, he is not led into the foolish excesses which would damage the very cause he champions. In Mr. Taft we have a man who combines all of these qualities to a degree which no other man in our public life sincerely believes has ever passed. To a flaming hatred of injustice, to a scorn of all that is base and mean, to a hearty sympathy with the oppressed, he adds entire disinterestedness, courage both moral and physical of the very highest type and a kindly gentleness of heart which makes him feel that all of his fellow countrymen are in very truth his friends and brothers, that their interests are his and that all his great qualities are to be spent with lavish freedom in their service. The honest man of public affairs, the honest and law abiding business man, can feel safe in his hands because of the very fact that the dishonest man of great wealth, the man who swindles or robs his fellows, would not so much as dare to defend himself doing in Mr. Taft's presence. The honest wageworker, the honest laboring man, the honest farmer, the honest mechanic or small trader or man of small means can feel that in a peculiar sense Mr. Taft will be his representative before the cause of the very fact that he has the same scorn for the demagogue that he has for the corruptionist and that he would front threats of personal violence from a mob with the unquenching and lofty indifference with which he would front the bitter anger of the wealthiest and most powerful corporations. Broad though his sympathies are, there is in him not the slightest tinge of weakness. No consideration of personal interest, any more than of fear for his personal safety, could make him swerve a hair's breadth from the course which he regards as right and in the interest of the whole people.

I have naturally a peculiar interest in the success of Mr. Taft and in seeing him backed by a majority in both houses of congress which will heartily support his policies. For the last ten years, while I have been governor of New York and president, I have been thrown into the closest intimacy with him, and he and I have on every essential point stood in the heartiest agreement, shoulder to shoulder. We have the same views as to what is demanded by the national interest and honor, both within our own borders and as regards our relations with this nation with other nations. There is no fight for decency and fair dealing which I have waged in which I have not had his heartiest and most effective sympathy and support, and the policies for which I stand are his policies as much as mine. It is not possible in the space of this letter to discuss all the many and entirely varied questions of moment, with which Mr. Taft as president would have to deal. Let him be judged by what he has himself done and by that the administration in which he has played so conspicuous a part has done. But to illustrate just what his attitude is let me touch on two matters now prominent in the public mind.

Mr. Taft is trusted to exact justice from the railroads for the very reason that he can be trusted to do justice to the railroads. The railroads are the chief instruments of interstate commerce in the country, and they can neither be held to a proper accountability on the one hand nor given proper protection on the other save by the affirmative action of the federal government. The law as laid down by the federal courts clearly shows that the states have not and cannot devise laws adequate to meet the problems caused by the great growth of the railroads doing an interstate commerce business for more than four-fifths of the business of the railroads is interstate, and under the constitution of the United States only the federal government can exercise control thereover. It is absolutely necessary that this control should be affirmative and thoroughgoing.

"YOU CAN'T FRIGHTEN ME ANY MORE - IT'S A JOKE."

awayed from the path of duty by any argument, by any consideration, who will wage relentless war on the successful wrongdoer among railroad men as among all other men, who will do all that can be done to secure legitimately low rates to shippers and absolute evenness among the rates thus secured, but who will not permit his purpose nor attempt to secure rates so low that the wage earner would lose his earnings and the shareholder, whose money built the road, his profits. He will stand against any kind of confiscation of honestly acquired property, but he will work effectively for the most effective type of government supervision and control of railroads, so as to secure just and fair treatment of the people as a whole.

What is here said as to his attitude on the railway question applies to the whole question of the trusts. He will promise nothing on this subject unless he firmly believes he can make his promise good. He will go into no chimerical movement to destroy all great business combinations, for this can only be done by destroying all modern business, but he will in practical fashion do everything possible to secure such efficient control on behalf of the people as will deprive them of the power to work evil. Mr. Taft's decision in the Addicks pipe line case while on the bench is proof by deed, not by word, of the far-sighted wisdom with which he serves the interests of the whole people even when those of the most powerful corporations are hostile thereto.

If there is one body of men more than another whose support I feel I have a right to challenge on behalf of Secretary Taft it is the body of wageworkers of the country. A stancher friend, a fairer and truer representative, they cannot find within the borders of the United States. He will do everything in his power for them except to do that which is wrong. He will do wrong for no man and therefore can be trusted by all men. During the ten years of my intimate acquaintance with him, since I have myself as governor and president been obliged to deal practically with labor problems, he has been one of the men upon whose judgment and aid I could always rely in doing everything possible for the cause of the wageworker. The man who works with his hands or with both hands and head.

Mr. Taft has been attacked because of the injunctions he delivered while on the bench. I am content to rest my case on these very injunctions. I maintain that they show why all our people should be grateful to him and should feel it safe to entrust their dearest interests to him. Most assuredly he never has yielded and never will yield to the threat or pressure of any sort, as little if it comes from labor as if it comes from capital. He will no more tolerate the violence of a mob than the corruption and oppression and arrogance of a corporation or of a wealthy man. He will not consent to limit the power of the courts to put a stop to wrongdoing wherever found. This very fact should make the labor people feel a peculiar confidence in him. He has incurred the bitter hostility of foolish and bigoted reactionaries by his frank criticism of the abuse of the power of injunction in labor disputes, and he is pledged to do all he can to put a stop to the abuses in the exercise of the power of injunction. He will never promise anything that he will not do all in his power to perform. He can always be trusted to do a little better than his word, and the fact that before election he will not promise the impossible is in itself a guaranty that after election all that is possible will be done.

His record as a judge makes the whole country his debtor. His actions and decisions are part of the great traditions of the bench. They guaranteed and set forth in striking fashion the rights of the general public as against the selfish interests of any class, whether of capitalists or of laborers. They set forth and stand by the rights of the wageworkers to organize and to strike as unequivocally as they set forth and stand by the doctrine that no man will be tolerated that would spell destruction to the nation as a whole. As for the attack upon his injunctions in labor disputes made while he was on the bench, I ask that the injunctions be carefully examined. I ask that every responsible citizen, whether of labor or of capital, responsible and fair minded member of a labor organization, read these injunctions for himself. If he will do so, instead of condemning them he will heartily approve of them and will recognize this further astonishing fact that the principles laid down by Judge Taft in these very injunctions, which laboring people are very principles which are now embodied in the laws or practices of every responsible labor organization. No responsible organization would now hesitate to condemn the abuses against which Judge Taft's injunctions were aimed. The principles which he therein so wisely and fearlessly laid down serve as a charter of liberty for all of us, for wageworkers, for employers, for the general public, for they rest on the principles of fair dealing for all, of even handed justice for all. They mark the judge who rendered them as standing for the rights of the whole people. As far as daylight is from darkness so far is such a judge from the time server, the trucker to the mob or the cringing tool of great, corrupt and corrupting corporations. Judge Taft on the bench—since, in the Philippines, in Panama, in Cuba, in the war department—showed himself to be a wise, a fearless and an upright servant of the whole people, whose services to the whole people were beyond all price. Moreover, let all good citizens remember that he rendered these services not when it was easy to do so, but when lawless violence was threatened, when malice, domestic and civil disturbance threatened the whole fabric of our government and of civilization. His actions showed not only the highest kind of moral courage, but of physical courage as well, for his life was freely and violently threatened. Let all fair minded men, wageworkers and capitalists alike, consider yet another fact. In one of his decisions upon the bench Judge Taft upheld in the strongest fashion and for the first time gave full vitality to the principle of the employers' liability for injuries done workmen. This was before any national law on the subject was enacted. Judge Taft's sense of right, his indignation against oppression in any form, against any attitude that is not fair and just, drove him to take a position which was violently condemned by shortsighted capitalists and employers of labor, which was so far in advance of the time that it was not generally upheld by the state courts, but which we are now embodying in the law of the land. Judge Taft was a leader, a pioneer, while on the bench in the effort to set justice for the wage worker in jealous championship of his rights, and all upright and far-sighted laboring men should hold it to his credit that at the same time he fearlessly stood against the abuses of our democracy, against the man who to please one class would undermine the whole foundation of orderly liberty and against the man who in the interest of another class would secure business prosperity by sacrificing every right of the working people.

I have striven as president to champion in every proper way the interests of the wageworker, for I regard the wageworker, excepting only the farmer, the tiller of the soil, as the man whose being is most essential to the healthy growth of this great nation. I would for no consideration advise the wageworker to do what I thought was against his interest. I ask his support for Mr. Taft exactly as I ask such support from every far-sighted and right thinking American citizen, because I believe with all my heart that nowhere within the borders of our great country can there be found another man who will as vigilantly and efficiently as Mr. Taft support the rights of the workingman as he will the rights of every man who in good faith strives to do his duty as an American citizen. He will protect the just rights of both rich and poor, and he will war relentlessly against lawlessness and injustice whether exercised on behalf of property or of labor.

On the bench Judge Taft showed the two qualities which make a great judge—wisdom and moral courage. They are also the two qualities which make a great president. Sincerely yours, THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

CASE AFTER CASE.

Plenty More Like This in Maysville.

Scores of Maysville people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

Mrs. Nathan A. Hafer, living in the Western part of Maysville, Ky., says:

"My estimation of Doan's Kidney Pills is so great that I have not the least hesitancy in publicly recommending them. For ten years I was bothered by backache, during which time I tried various remedies without obtaining any beneficial results. There was a constant dull ache across my back, often accompanied by sharp rheumatic twinges throughout my body. I was subject to nervous headaches and dizzy spells, and on arising in the morning felt so tired that it seemed as if I had not been to sleep at all. Mr. Hafer, who had been cured of backache by Doan's Kidney Pills, advised me to give them a trial, and I procured a box at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore. They soon proved their efficiency in my case, and I did not have to take them long when all my trouble disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

GRAND OPENING

The Princess Rink Throws Down the Bars For the Winter Skating Tournament

The Princess Skating Rink threw open its doors last night to a crowd of many hundreds of people, and the 1908-9 skating season was auspiciously inaugurated with Prof. L. A. Wastell, the expert, in charge of the floor.

That Maysvillians are still fond of the pedal roller sport, and that the Princess Rink has lost none of its popularity, was amply demonstrated last evening by the big crowd that attended as sight-seers and the 300 skaters who made the skating arena ring with the rollers, and their merry laughter almost drowned the harmonious swells of the big orchestral.

The Princess looks epic and new, with its shining floor, its decorations and the many electric lights. The new refreshment booth in charge of Traxel is a gem and a pleasing novelty.

Messrs. Everett & Brown, the owners and managers, were on hand to extend a genial welcome to the visiting hosts.

The Princess Rink is going to prove the drawing card this season and you want to join the merry throng.

A SURGICAL OPERATION

If there is any one thing that a woman dreads more than another it is a surgical operation.

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letters.

Mrs. Barbara Base, of Kingman, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles and was told that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman."

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Moorestown, N. J., writes:

"I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Good crowds were out at each performance, the best show for the money ever seen here being the verdict. Jimmy Newell, in new songs and monologues, still retains the applause of the crowd. Applegate and Whiteside, in their new playlet, "A Trip in An Automobile," present an act entirely different from the usual run of vaudeville acts. The act going big is replete with singing and dancing; and "The Wrong Glass of Milk," a big bunch of laughs, was great. The show in its entirety is one that would please the most exacting critic. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for literature.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for. Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasite germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newb's Horripile to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.
